

Unemployment remains high, government debt is soaring, politics are in discord, interest rates are in question, commodity prices have collapsed, and many uncertainties exist in every aspect of our daily lives. No matter what asset class you are investing in, nobody has a clear answer.

So, what does this mean for you as an investor, a hedge fund or portfolio manager, a financial advisor, or any other type of investment analyst? It means you must uncover your own answers and solve your own problems – you must rely upon your own research.

It means that you need complete, unabridged, financial data on a cross-section of asset classes that is accurate and verified, transcribed from original sources. It means you must draw your own conclusions, using your own analysis software of your own choosing. GFD gives you this freedom.

We don't offer canned reports, recommendations, or packaged solutions, we offer original data from original sources for investors who want to out perform the markets. GFD is designed for the Alpha Investor.

The GFDdatabase has been transcribed from thousands of historical macro-economic sources providing full coverage on: government debt, GDP, unemployment rates, commodity prices, trade data, money supply, total returns to stocks, bonds and bills, sector indices, inflation rates, and exchange rates.

For Equity advisors, we offer the GFD US Equities. We have transcribed every stock ever traded on the United States Stock Exchanges including NYSE, NASDAQ, AMEX, and the Regionals such as Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, and Pittsburg.

GFD offers 100 years of fundamental data on the U.S. markets and is the only company to have completed this task, while maintaining a full list of all delisted securities, corporate actions, and total returns.

GFD has transcribed every stock listed on the London Stock Exchange beginning in 1694 including maintaining a list of all delisted securities, corporate actions and shares outstanding. We offer original market prices, split adjusted or total returns. This product is the GFD UK Equities.

GFD offers thousands of proprietary benchmark indexes featured in the GFD Indices, the most unique set of alternative, historical benchmark indexes ever generated used by the world's top market performers.

Only GFD supplies the GFD Indices since they have been derived using information from the GFDdatabase and the GFD US and UK Equities. These original sets of Macroiversal™ and Microiversal™ data only transcribed by Global Financial Data, cover 50 countries and extend centuries not just decades.
